

What to Expect from a Penis Enlargement Device

With natural penis enlargement, you usually want the biggest and fastest results possible. Where other methods such as enhancement pills typically do not target enlargement, the extenders on the market completely fill the void.

Where other methods like pills or even exercises typically deliver temporary or much slower results, the enlargement device offers a jump start to success.

What is it?

The penis enlargement device is a recent medical breakthrough that has been designed to target natural penis enlargement. The difference between the device and other methods is in the no nonsense focus on penis enlargement results.

The extender works by gradually stretching and multiplying the cells of the penis. The user of the device will see that it delivers noticeably bigger size in both length and girth.

The device works on just about any penis size, and as we will see, it has already been tested and proven by doctors in careful medical research.

Extenders and natural exercises

Natural exercises are also a very effective option and should not go without mention. They are the foundation to some of the most successful enlargement programs and are no doubt very important in a combination device and exercise program like SizeGenetics.

Exercises require more work than the convenient option of just wearing the device. Results with exercises are quite certain however gains can come slower since you should only exercise for a limited time, once per day.

The device however provides results based on the total time it is used.

Most vendors recommend using the device for 8 to 10 hours per day but due to its flexible nature, any time using the device will contribute toward overall length gains. At no time will you lose the gains you have already made.

Since you are likely interested in a safe, fast working and permanent penis enlargement alternative to surgery, this article focuses on the extender and claims that there is no more effective method for a bigger penis size than a high quality traction device.

What to expect

What you can expect from the use of an extender boils down to the quality of the one you are buying.

Since what you want is real penis enlargement gains, you will feel there is less risk in buying from a site that has some actual medical testing backing its device.

Unfortunately though, only a few extenders are worth considering due to the majority of them overlooking what valuable medical testing can do to support the claims made on their website.

The research behind the SizeGenetics program is some of the most extensive and convincing work done on a penis enlargement extender yet.

In one major research, this device was put under intense medical study by mens health doctors to determine how effective the device can be for participants in a six month period.

The results from the study were confirmed by a team of five doctors from the research unit of the University of Milan, in Italy.

In general, time is the biggest factor in your results with the device. The longer and more often you wear it, the bigger your gains in both length and girth.

The results from the study

The team realized that the bulk of the gains made are achieved in the first eight weeks use of the device.

In the first eight weeks, any normal man who uses the device for a bigger penis size can expect gains of as much as 13 percent of his original size.

Over the next period of eight weeks, the average increase in length of the penis is typically six percent, bringing the average gains in length to 19 percent since the beginning of the program.

After wearing the device for five months, the doctors claimed that the average gains made by the participants were 24 percent. Continuing into the sixth month, doctors found that their patients had increased their size to as much as 29 percent!

Expect up to 30 percent gains in 6 months use

That means that on average, men who wear the extender can gain about one third of their original size.

Clearly, a larger penis size is possible from wearing the device, and thanks to modern medical research, we know that this is by up to 29 percent larger.

Of course, results may vary but most people will see some gains. Most devices on the market also come with at least a 3 month money back guarantee further backing up your results.

Again, increases in size are typically made in both length and girth, as the natural multiplication of cells in the penis produces enlargement in both length and girth.

Overall, patience pays off in the end when one can gain a much bigger penis size from the use of the highly effective penis enlargement device.

Source: <http://www.articlecircle.com>

About the Author

Find out more and compare the top 3 extenders at my penis enlargement device website, <http://www.penisdevicereview.com>