

A Man's Dream and a Woman's Agenda

A MAN'S DREAMS AND A WOMAN'S AGENDA

Here's your typical man who probably 99.9% are of this type. (or close)

He wants a loving, peaceful relationship with an attractive woman who keeps herself up and makes him proud and goes to do things with other people he cares about. She enjoys his friends and the fun and excitement and rivalries around the sports games she likes country or classic rock music, and dancing to it she is gentle and harmonious and she tremendously enjoys their times together at home as well as out on the town. She likes biking, motorcycling, camping and fishing. He will either be in love with her or on the way to that. He will think that automatically she will love him as well.

She does not harangue or nag him toward marriage or having babies in most cases the guys don't want babies at all or if he does at least not for a number of years.

They are very happy RIGHT WHERE THEY ARE AT THIS TIME AND WANT IT TO GO ON INDEFINITELY. From here there's nothing that could be made any better and to stay right here indefinitely would be the guys choice.

BUT SORRY GUYS that's not where the woman is and not what she's going to do.

She is compelled to get a marriage and have babies, and she wants to do it right away. Even in the first month after marriage, she wants to become pregnant, and she will continue having and wanting babies until you have 5 or 6 IF YOU DON'T SCREAM STOP!!!! Once you get her stopped (if you can) - when her biological clock starts running out she will want 2 or 3 more babies.

She has a method and she works it as fast as she can, but let me tell you almost no woman wants an adult relationship which is what most men want. Almost no woman gives a rat's A about whether you need or want sex, or anything else you need once she has the legal hooks in. There are a very few that are better or even good and we'll discuss them later.

That raises questions about whether women or relationships or marriage are worth anything at all and I can't say they are, because so many have proven to be a disaster for the man in the relationship often legally tied to support a woman and kids he didn't really want, and for many years while she often is with another man, making babies that he will have to support. OR she will get very fat and sit around watching TV all the time and raising HER kids and at the same time berating you for being a lout and not making enough money to support her and the kids she has in the way that she thinks she deserves. She will be a person you come to hate and looking at her in the morning will almost cause you to heave and this is that pretty, slim thing you use to love being with and having sex with. Now you don't want it and that may be one of the reasons she lets herself go because the only reason she wants to have sex with you (or someone) is to get pregnant. I know a woman whose email address is born2bearbabies@ - you get the picture.

This compulsion to get a meal ticket and have babies is so strong I've seen it in 8 of my buddies, myself and 2 very close friends. Several were trapped by a pregnant girlfriend (possibly someone else's baby) others were rushed into marriage to keep getting sex (they thought) and then the wife, who was supposed to be on pills says: "I'm pregnant, the pill must have messed up" or your condom must have broken - anything to cover that she deliberately became pregnant by you or someone else. Keep in mind that any baby she has is still 50% hers, so if she has support and sperm, why should she care whose baby it is.

She will start her analysis of you at work, in a bar, sportsbar or at a party. You will notice two very friendly and interested eyes watching you wherever you are.

When you and your buddies cheer for a football team, you'll see her there because she planned it that way. She'll be smiling and clapping for YOUR TEAM and looking at you. She would naturally have an inside track if she was a fan of your favorite team and she knows it. In reality she could care less about any sport or anything else except to make a successful hit on you. She has already done her preliminary analysis of you and you passed. She may be working several guys at once so watch to see if she is also looking at others the same way. Later and not much later she will want to know where you work, what you make, what kind of car you have, and if you have credit cards, and some women donâ€™t even try to hide their extreme interest in getting married â€“ not having fun, but getting married. You might be ceremoniously DUMPED if your car and finances donâ€™t measure up. See, in the bar she has only your manner of dress and behavior to judge you by, she hasnâ€™t seen how you live or how you drive., or what your finances are.

My experiences over many years and the almost exact experiences of my friends bear out that women do not love men. WOMEN DO NOT LOVE MEN! They love themselves and possibly babies â€“ some say the babies are a meal ticket and possession and little more. I donâ€™t know on that. Men love women and when they choose to have them â€“ children.

IF this woman decides you are IT, you will find the sex great for awhile â€“ as she works hard to get her hooks in you. In order to get you to marry â€“ she has to convince you that she loves you. She will say, during your sex â€“ I really, really love you â€“ wanting and expecting you to say it back â€“ and you might â€“ even if you donâ€™t mean it â€“ we men say a lot of things when wanting sex or having sex. She will be saying to you that â€“our relationship isnâ€™t really going anywhereâ€“ - youâ€™ll ask what she means and tell her you though the two of you were having a great time. Sheâ€™ll say â€“eyes, we are but itâ€™s time to take it to the next levelâ€. Youâ€™ll hear that one a lot â€“ she has a whole bunch of levels that never end â€“ one after another they come down the pike.

Once you are saying â€“I love you tooâ€• â€“ sheâ€™s ready for the next part of the maneuver. Itâ€™s to say â€“if you love me as you say you do â€“ donâ€™t you think we should be making a commitment to each other?â€. If you say itâ€™s too early, she might back off for a bit so you wonâ€™t dump her, or she might push harder, depending on the type of person she is and how much above her status you are as a male. Women from a lower economic status will give you more time than an office worker in your office who makes near what you do. But, with all of them â€“ she will begin holding back on sex, saying she has a headache, is tired or that maybe weâ€™re having sex a little too much, and what are you â€“ some kind of pervert? Or one Iâ€™ve heard a lot when things werenâ€™t going the way they wanted them to â€“do you think I have the morals of an alleycat?â€•

All the while, the hint will be out there that if you make a commitment, sex will be fine â€“ as much and as often as you want.

Youâ€™ll find it harder and harder to get sex from her and if you fall for the maneuver, you will make a commitment to marry her. Next she will start pushing for a date to be set. And as you delay, the sex will begin to dry up again.

Some women are so compelled to have babies right away, they donâ€™t even wait to work you - one said she has no plans to mess around â€“ she flat out asks a man she meets in a bar â€“ do you want kids? If he canâ€™t answer that â€“sheâ€™s off â€“ if he says yes â€“ she says â€“when.â€•

Any man that would want to get into a deal like that â€“ regardless of what she looked like â€“ would have to be crazy.

So, let's say you are engaged but things arenâ€™t going along fast enough for her â€“ one day she says sheâ€™s pregnant!!! That will knock your socks off â€“ sheâ€™ll say she loves you dearly and itâ€™s yours and she would never want a baby with another man. In reality it may well be another manâ€™s baby. Sheâ€™s working on making you feel guilty and she will tell all your friends or if at work your coworkers will think youâ€™re a jerk if you dump her then. Itâ€™s always the manâ€™s fault when they get pregnant. And if you tell her to get an abortion, sheâ€™s say thatâ€™s MURDER and she never would get an abortion â€“ translated â€“ she wants that baby.

So â€“ you marry her. Thatâ€™s when the babies start to pop out like popcorn! Whether itâ€™s genetic, societal, or what, 99.9% of all women think the whole show is 1. You get born, 2. You grow up 3. You get married, 4. You have kids 5. You die ! With them itâ€™s a dolly from birth to the grave if they can. Older women live for their kids and could usually care less about their husband.

So now weâ€™ll get to that exception. While not common, many older women donâ€™t want to live alone and will get married and make a fine companion and then often they really do love the man. Sometimes a younger woman really doesnâ€™t want kids â€“ very rare but it does happen, and she will marry and learn to love a man. But your chances of finding that are about 1 tenth of 1 percent.

Many men actually do want kids, but after a few years of a loving adult relationship. They probably would be the ones that would allow the woman to have babies and she will, but they will also have to put the brakes on because the woman usually won't.

Women usually want to stay home and let the man bring all the money home and often they get so slovenly that they couldn't get a job anyway so the guy doesn't ask them to. Most women will become proficient in their jobs so they can stay near men who they might want to marry, but as soon as they can, and often even if they are not married they will quit their good paying corporate jobs and go home and get on welfare so they can have babies and/or be with the babies they already have. Such women could care less about business they only care about having babies.

SO is this popping out babies, because they are incredibly lazy and having babies allow them to stay home while we men fight with the elements in the work place or is it just the compulsion to bear babies that cause it or some of both.

Either way it's total disaster to the men that are involved.

Men have a need for sex and they want it and they have a right to get it anyway they can as long as they don't force a woman.

They're lying to you to advance their agenda you have every right to lie to them to advance yours.

Be smart and get a vasectomy, so they can't nail you on the pregnancy, including sometimes a false pregnancy. Don't tell anyone you got one not even your best buddies or brother because it will find its way out there and you're not of interest then to any female.

Also don't ever say you don't want babies, just say after several years of a loving relationship, I might consider marriage and up to 4 kids. Trust me, she will never stay with you for several years without marriage and kids and if she dumps you that fine there are a whole bunch of other women waiting to play the same game but you will have some great new sex for awhile again.

By the time they leave you or you dump them because they are nagging you it's time to end that relationship anyway. And remember, they don't love you no matter how much you love them or how much money you have. Read some case histories download the Male Action Network Ebook at
