

Valentines Day Gifts You Should Never Buy

When it comes to shopping, men are not as skilled as women. And if you are dating a woman, then you must offer her presents. But with the help of some simple tips rules that regard what you should and should not buy for a woman, it will be easier to find a date and keep your lady! So, here are the most important things you need to avoid when you buy a gift for a woman on Valentine's:

Items which appear cheap or which appear to be of low quality. If the thing that you want to purchase is too expensive for your budget, than it is wiser to select a more symbolic gift, but of high quality.

Are these good dating gifts?

Cooking items and kitchen equipment. This gift basically says to your date: You belong in the kitchen and no woman wants to hear that.

Cleaning items: detergents, brushes and so on. Again, this type of gift is clearly saying: Get up and clean the house, woman!, which is the last thing your date or partner should hear from you.

Fake jewelry. If you are thinking that you can fool your date that you offered her the real thing (diamond, precious stones, instead of the fake ones), that you are so wrong. When it comes to jewelry, clothes and perfume, women can not be fooled. So, the same things apply to the other categories: no fake designer clothes and no perfume imitations.

Make-up products. This is not a definitive no no, but in case you are no expert, you will select the wrong products. And make-up is women's business.

Weight loss products (this is the safest way to your separation), foundation, deodorant or anti-wrinkle cream. These gifts basically say that you don't consider your partner beautiful (or clean) enough.

So these were the product categories that you must avoid when searching for a gift for your date or partner. Now you are probably asking yourself: what am I supposed to offer her for Valentines?

Basically, when it comes to selecting gifts for your date or partner, you must know that the ones that the women appreciate most are the ones that are carefully selected, that reveal your feelings and that show a lot of attention to detail. This category includes the handmade gifts - even if this is discouraging, it is true.

Also, there are other types of gifts which women appreciate: stylish and esthetic decorative objects like candles, vases, antiques, highly artistic items, natural flowers, precious jewelry, designer accessories (especially bags), original perfume and so on. Remember these rules, have fun shopping and keep your partner happy this Valentine's!
