

The Best Pick Up Lines

If I tell you the best pick up lines that guys use to get a 100% success rate on women, would you promise to read through the whole article? OK, these pick up lines will totally change how you play in the dating field and these words will deliver you a life changing phenomenon so I suggest that you pay good attention to what I say as if your life depends on it (at least your happiness does).

First, I want you to take a good look of yourself on the mirror. And ask yourself, "If I were a woman, would I date this guy?"

In the Psychology of first impressions, it only takes half a second for someone to know if they like you or not. What image are you projecting? Do the words "Life Sucks" continuously blink on your forehead? Are you projecting a negative energy?

An accurate way of knowing what aura you project to people is by asking a complete stranger to give his first impression on you. Ask for their honest evaluation and let them rate you from 1 to 10 because your success with the pick up lines depend on this. Gather your first impressions and find out the positive qualities they saw and enhance it. Then find out what you can do with the negative qualities they saw in you. You now have control over something that you are not aware of before so what are you going to do about it? Your action or inaction will be a measure on how you can greatly improve how you interact with women.

I know it sucks to be judged by a complete stranger based on a 5-second look but that is just how it is with picking up women. When you approach women they will rate you and that will register to their brain and come up with a positive or a negative feedback based on their first impression.

If you want to attract a woman then you have to project a confident, comfortable and sensual personality. If you fake it, women will see through you. What is important is you project who you are and what you really are on the inside. So if you value yourself then project that value to people.

Next, you should be aware of the manner you talk. Does your voice project who you are talking to? Can people differentiate when you are talking to your buddies and when you are talking to your lover? Learn to modulate your voice and use your tone to create an atmosphere that fits the situation.

A woman notices every detail as you approach and have already made a mental note about you in her mind even before you say your best pick up lines. So when you utter the words, it is either you are adding more points to build yourself up or you have already lost the impact even before you approached her.

Even if you muster all the best pick up lines that the dating gurus taught you, it won't matter if you have not paid attention to the things that come before you actually talk to a woman because she has already made a decision beforehand.

So, what are the best pick up lines? It can be the simplest "Hi!" or "How are you?". It is not what you say. It is how you say it. Do you now get the point? If you are serious about taking your success with women to a level you never even dreamed possible, check out Get A Date For Keeps and learn every nitty-gritty detail of what it takes exactly to become the kind of man that women fall in love with in the shortest possible time.
