

Cool Kids Summer Camp Reviews and Few Ideas

Summer is soon coming knocking round the corner and some of the parents are worried about where to send their kids for a good kid's summer camping trip and experience. There are lots of kids summer camp that are easy to find in almost all parenting magazines or website but they expensive too. Here I attempt to give reviews that I think could help you understand things better.

If you are the one looking something different than the usual old boring stuff then try your hands at a summer theatre program with lots of acting classes and training. Read some summer camp reviews at places like advanced acting "The best summer theatre program ever!" and I'm getting lead roles now!".

The prime focus of this kids summer camp is Fine arts and acting or performing arts, drama etc. It is located in Palo Alto California and it is a day Camp. Got the desire for this then go no where. Fine arts, acting or performing arts kind of summer camps are very beneficial for kids if the inclination of your child is towards nature, he/she is a good detail oriented guy and loves arts and crafts subjects. The kids in this camp will love the training and environment to cultivate his creativity and imagination.

Interaction with lots of like minded kids will definitely prove a wise decision if you send your kids at advanced acting summer camps.

If you like traveling, visiting new places then how about a travel type summer camp situated in Mill Valley California. Here the focus is Teen tour or Adventure and excursion. The name is adventure cross country. Visit the site and find out more about the various trips they organize like all multi sports trip, blue water trip, rocky mountain leadership. They also cover Europe and other parts of the world. This is a great outdoor summer camp in California. Lots of outdoor activities for the kids and a great place to spend summer for your kids.

While surfing the site you will come across various multi-sport adventures activities like rock climbing, surfing, water sports or sea kayaking, and there is overnight backpacking in North America. I am sure that you'd like your kids to try these activities if they love outdoor and adventurous type of activities.

Here is another summer camp review one that should motivate you. If your kids have a bright scientific kind of mind and is a science aficionado here is another kids summer camp - Bright Minds Summer Science. This camp is situated in San Francisco, California. It is Co-ed and the stress is Science / Computer / Nature. The name is Bright Mind Institute where all the required detailed info can be found.

This is a multidiscipline diagnose and treatment center specially catering to children with learning disabilities and extraordinary needs. The kids that suffer from hearing deficits (ADD/ADHD), autism, and language and speech disabilities will find it a great program.

They have a great staff of doctors, therapists, educators, and psychologists available and trained to take care of your children.

Source: <http://www.articlecircle.com>

About the Author

Roy writes reviews on kids summer camping and clothings. For more details click at California adventure Day Camps and at Summer Art Camp - Residential coed summer camp.